Numerology is the occult study of numbers and their esoteric significance in your life. You have probably already heard about the four esoteric numbers, based on your birthday, and the name given to you on your birth certificate. But did you know that other, lesser numbers, such as your telephone number and your street address can also exert influences on your life? Even ephemeral numbers, like the number of the hotel room you stay in for a business trip or vacation can have an effect on what happens while you're there.

Many people nowadays can be contacted through multiple phone numbers. People have telephones in their homes, on their office desks, connected to fax machines, and carried on their person, in the form of a cell phone or pager. Additionally, the address where you work, or even the number on your office door can affect your work life in subtle and mysterious ways. Have you noticed that there is one office where your coworkers tend to congregate for social interaction? Is there another office that seems focused on work? The vibrational energies contained in their esoteric number may be the reason.

Simple calculations can provide you with the seed number (from 1 through 9) of any of these place numbers.

Performing numerological calculations requires that you convert letters to numbers (if there are letters involved) and then reduce the numbers to a single digit. The accepted method of reducing the numbers is to add up each individual digit in a number. If that sum is more than 1 digit, you then further reduce the resulting number by adding all of its digits together. If this number is more than 1 digit, repeat until the result is only one digit. Exception: if your resultant number is 11, 22, 33, or 44, do not reduce it further. These are Master Numbers and have special power and significance.

Calculating the esoteric Number for your phone number is straightforward and easy. If your phone number is composed solely of digits, you just add them up, and reduce the total to one digit. For example,

212-555-1212

$$2 + 1 + 2 + 5 + 5 + 5 + 1 + 2 + 1 + 2 = 26$$

$$2 + 6 = 8$$

If your phone number contains words, like CALL-ME-HERE, then you must first convert the letters to numbers. The esoteric conversion would be carried out exactly like if you were determining the number for a name -- you do not want to just jot down the number associations from your telephone keypad. You have changed the esoteric flavor of the telephone number by using words. To convert an alphabetical phone number, you must use the Pythagorean conversions, as shown below:

1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
A	B	C	D	E	F	G	H	I
J	K	L	M	N	O	P	Q	R
S	T	U	V	W	X	Y	Z

So, the phone number CALL-ME-HERE would translate to

$$3 + 1 + 3 + 3 + 4 + 5 + 8 + 5 + 9 + 5 = 46$$

C A L L M E H E R E

$$4 + 6 = 10$$

$$1 + 0 = 1$$

If you converted the alphabetical phone number to it's dialed digits you will usually get a completely different number.

CALL-ME-HERE is actually 225-563-4373

$$2 + 2 + 5 + 5 + 6 + 3 + 4 + 3 + 7 + 3 = 40$$

$$4 + 0 = 4$$

You may want to calculate the esoteric number for both "versions" of your phone number (the numerical and the alphabetical) and see which gives you better results.

Once you have the esoteric number for your phone number, house number, office number or other place number, look it up in the table below to see how this number affects your life:

1	1 is a very beneficial number for someone who is a manager, group leader, or who aspires to that role. Expect incoming phone calls from other managers and subordinates asking for information or advice. If your office or address yield 1, you can expect to host meetings, both formal and informal, in your office. You will be able to perform leadership functions efficiently and make decisions affecting you, your business and your employees. Keywords: original, independent, aggressive, individualistic, creative, dominant; the first in a series, the start of any operation or activity, the leader, the pioneer, the boss who likes authority. "He who goes forth."
----------	--

2	2, being the complement to 1 (the yin to 1's yang), provides a more passive energy. It is well suited for businesses and jobs that are in-between two other entities: like agents, diplomats, and brokers. 2 tries to bring unity through compromise, and achieving a meeting of the minds. In that context, it could be a good energy for a law office, or an administrator. Because of the receptive nature of 2, it is also a good energy for administrative assistants, secretaries and interns. If you are ambitious and desire advancement in your current job, and your phone or office number yield 2: work toward advancement by cooperation and achieving consensus among difficult coworkers. The 2 energy will help you on this path to a promotion, and relocation to a new office with a new (and hopefully more auspicious) phone number. Keywords: adaptable, tactful, understanding, gentle, cautious; a follower rather than a leader.
3	3 combines the qualities of 1 and 2. The 3 energy is very enthusiastic and creative. It is ideal for someone who makes their living from their creativity: artists, graphic designers, musicians, writers, actors and other performers would do well with 3 for their number. The 3 energy is very sociable, extroverted and friendly. Keywords: expansive, sociable, dramatic, communicative, diversified, creative

4	4 is stability, a 4-square consciousness, the symbol of law, systems and order. It is firmness, security, stability and conservatism. 4 is nature and relates to the earth. 4 develops a practical nature, and through self-discipline, binds itself to a conventional routine exercise of its energy. 4 is a wonderful energy for builders, contractors, and tradesmen (carpenters, plumbers and electricians), as well as for businesses that work directly with the earth, such as farms and landscape and lawn care businesses. Jobs that relate to law and order also fall under these energies, so lawyers, bureaucrats, law enforcement and judicial personnel would do well with 4 for their number. This is also an acceptable energy for bankers, stock brokers, and conservative politicians (although they would do better with 8 or 22). Keywords: form, work, order, practicality, construction, stability, endurance, discipline
5	5 is freedom, change and adventure. Curiosity and constant activity produce a resourceful, adaptable and versatile energy always ready to take a chance. This is a good number for a creative professional, especially someone involved in advertising or promotion. Travel agents would also benefit from the 5 energy. For many other careers, the 5 energy tends to draw the party animals to you - either through distracting phone calls, or non-work socializing in your office. The exuberance of the 5 energy may become distracting in some job settings. If this happens to you, you will have to exhibit some self-control and start screening calls and closing your office door to visitors so you'll be able to get your work done. Keywords: versatility, resourcefulness, adaptability, change, activity, travel, adventure, promotion, speculation.

6	6 is conscientious; it desires to bring harmony, truth, justice and a sense of balance into its environment. Love and compassion are uppermost in its mind. Others are drawn to it because of the understanding which emanates from it. 6 is an ideal energy for teachers, body workers, medical offices, child care businesses, schools, social workers, counselors, and social services. 6 is a domestic and artistic vibration that adjusts to the needs of others. 6 is also gifted in the arts, and can be an auspicious number for fine artists in a number of fields. Architects that specialize in residential design would especially benefit from bringing the 6 energy into their practice. Keywords: family and social responsibility, service, love, compassion, counseling, healing, creativity.
7	7 seeks answers. It tries to establish a philosophy by which to live and attempts to penetrate the mystery behind its existence which it had never questioned to this point. Because solitude is necessary for analysis, the 7 feels the need to spend time alone, away from the crowds, in touch with nature. It looks for friendship with those of an elevated consciousness that can match its own. This is not a fantastic energy for a high visibility business or practice, but it is suited to professions where discerning contact is desired. This phone will not be ringing off the hook with constant calls, and visits to the 7 office will be rare but meaningful. The person with the 7 phone will be contacted with questions, because the caller knows you have the answers they seek. Keywords: quiet, introspective, intuitive, analytical, inspirational, reclusive, philosophical, mystical.

8	8 will assume power, for it now has achieved control and responsibility in its own chosen field. Recognition and financial rewards are bestowed, and expansion and growth in the business would take place. Under 8, karma is king, and you reap what you have sown. Power is the quality associated with 8. Ardor, zeal, steadfastness and the ability to see in broad terms give it the ambition and added qualities needed to achieve material goals. This number is perfect for the entrepreneur and the executive. Politicians work well with the 8 energy, as do people who work in finance: bankers, stock brokers, and so forth. Keywords: power, responsibility, financial rewards, good judgement, recognition
9	9 is selflessness and compassion. 9 is ready to give back to the universe some measure of what it has learned through the eight previous steps of they cycle. The law of cyclicity allows for no waste, and demands input for output. When this is done willingly, the completion experienced under 9 brings only joy at the gift of life and the freedom with which to enter the next cycle unencumbered. The fact that the 9 energy encompasses endings makes it a problematical number in a work context. The 9 energy seems to attract pink slips and layoffs, especially if it's associated with an office number. It would be best suited for non-profit work; work that promotes tolerance and compassion. Charities would benefit from this energy. The spiritual aspect of the 9 energy is also well suited to religious organizations, as well as work that involves death: life insurance, cemeteries and funeral homes. Keywords: love, compassion, patience, universality, tolerance, selfless service, endings.

11	11 is the first Master Number, a higher vibration of 2. Its keywords are altruism and community. It is one of the most difficult vibrations because the demand for high standards is constant. 11 is an esoteric master number of spiritual import. It bestows courage, power and talent with strong feelings of leadership. This is a difficult energy to handle: sometimes you may feel overwhelmed with the amount and nature of issues that come to you over the phone, or through your office door. If you can remember that true mastery is service, and remain modest in the face of fame and recognition, you will be able to deal with whatever comes your way. Keywords: altruism, community, spiritual revelation, idealism, emotionalism, future vision.
22	22 is the second Master Number, a higher vibration of 4. 22 gives the promise of success. 22 wants to accomplish big things in a big way, preferably with a lot of people, as in dealings with a big corporation. Great at taking ideas and putting them to practical use. This is a fantastic number for entrepreneurs, aspiring executives and politicians, and people who have to deal with large projects or groups. It is also auspicious for large construction companies, and civil engineers and architects: people who design and build skyscrapers, bridges, roads, and other large, public-works projects. Keywords: Master extrovert, power on both planes, financial stability, complete control

33	33 is the third Master Number, a higher vibration n of 6. The need to serve and protect others is very strong. 33 is auspicious for people working with nature, including forestry, environmental advocacy, and large-scale agriculture; the arts - music, painting or literature; doctors and other healthcare professionals; or law and justice, including lawyers, policemen, judges, and lawmakers. Keywords: Responsibility, self-sacrifice, courage, Master Teacher, worldly success, skill and fame, perfect relationships
44	44 is the fourth and final Master Number, a higher vibration of 8. As such, the 44 energy can bring you rewards for your efforts in any field of endeavor. If you have been productive, you can expect an increase in status and finances. If you have not been giving it your "best shot," you may receive unwanted and restricting burdens instead. It may be time for a change in office location, phone number, or even your job or career. Keywords: Karma, re-evaluation, opportunity

You may not be able to move your house or office location, but you may be able to change your phone number pretty easily. If you have a numeric phone number and the esoteric number is not favorable for your business or career path, try to come up with an alphabetical equivalent for your phone number that would give you a more beneficial number.
